

Code of Animal treatment - Shepherd of Sweden AB - Appendix 2 of Purchase Agreement

Revised May 2017

Our Policy and demand

Introduction:

This code is the demand of Shepherd of Sweden AB for all people who handle and manage sheep.

The crucial importance of sound animal husbandry principles cannot be over-emphasised.

Among the most important factors affecting welfare in a flock are the behaviour and attitude of the management

1. Animal treatment

The animal should be able to walk free and have access to water at all time in an environment that is normal for the animal and good for their health.

The animal must also be provided with access to a diet which is nutritionally adequate to maintain health and meet appropriate physiological requirement for growth pregnancy lactation and withstand cold exposure

The animal should be taken care of and looked after and treated well so they will be protected against unnecessary suffering and illness.

The animal must have the possibility to be protected from extreme weather conditions.

2. Mulesing

Shepherd of Sweden AB do not agree with the practice of Mulesing, none of our suppliers are allowed to work with skins or purchase skins from farmers / breeders that are practicing Mulesing

Therefore, we also guarantee that all our product are produced from skins that have never been affected by Mulesing.

3. Shipment and transport of live animals

Our company do not agree with and do not accept live animal shipments on vessels.
